Welsh is a growing, dynamic language, which is increasingly required by employers. Under the Welsh Language Act, local authorities have to provide services through the medium of Welsh. This increased demand for bilingualism has opened up exciting careers in many fields, including commerce, tourism, journalism and the media.

The main aim of the course is to enable the pupils to communicate through the medium of Welsh. This is achieved by giving the pupils first-hand experience of the language by visiting the Urdd Centres at Llangrannog and Glanllyn to participate in the many and varied activities which the Urdd provides. As a department, we have a 100% pass rate at GCSE A*-G grade.
